

User Stories and Figma Design

JobMate – Employee Recruitment System

Submitted By

K SHYAM KRISHNAN

S3 RMCA B

Admin Module:

1. Admin User can log in to the system using their username and password.
2. Admin User can log out of the system.
3. Admin User can view a list of all user accounts in the system.
4. Admin User can search for specific user accounts by username or role.
5. Admin User can create new user accounts with assigned roles (admin, recruiter, or candidate).
6. Admin User can edit the details of existing user accounts, including username, email, and role.
7. Admin User can deactivate or suspend user accounts.
8. Admin User can reset passwords for users who have forgotten their credentials.
9. Admin User can assign or revoke access permissions for different modules to specific user accounts.
10. Admin User can define and manage role-based access controls, specifying the actions and data each role can access.
11. Admin User can add new employer profiles to the system.
12. Admin User can edit the details of existing employer profiles, including company information and contact details.
13. Admin User can manage employer accounts, including deactivation if necessary.

Candidate Module:

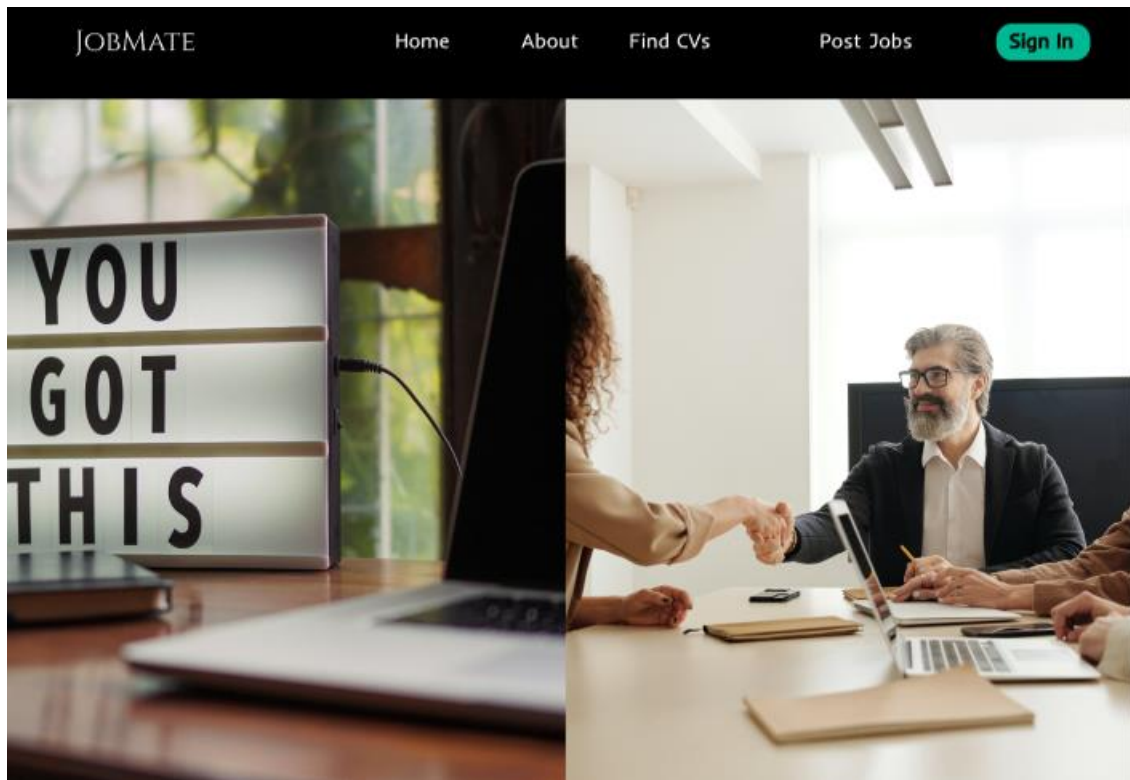

1. Candidate can register on the platform by providing personal information and creating a candidate profile.
2. Candidate can add and update personal information, including name, contact details, and location.
3. Candidate can add education history, specifying degrees, institutions, and graduation dates.
4. Candidate can input details about work experience, including past employers, job titles, and responsibilities.
5. Candidate can list skills and qualifications on their profile.
6. Candidate can upload resumes, cover letters, and other relevant documents.
7. Candidate can search for job openings based on criteria such as location, job title, or keywords.
8. Candidate can view job descriptions and requirements.

9. Candidate can apply for job openings by submitting applications and relevant documents.

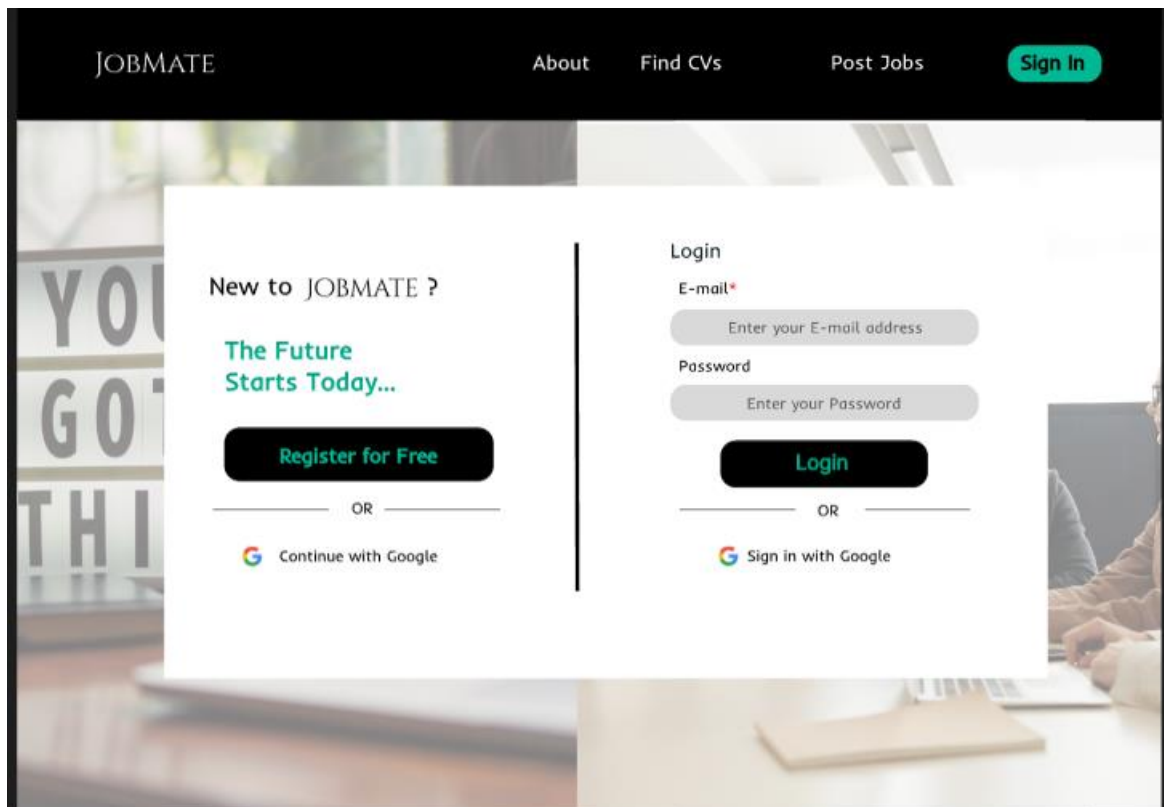

Recruiter Module:

1. Recruiter can create new job postings by specifying job titles, descriptions, and requirements.
2. Recruiter can edit and update existing job postings.
3. Recruiter can manage job postings, including archiving or removing them.
4. Recruiter can define detailed job descriptions, including responsibilities and qualifications.
5. Recruiter can set specific requirements and qualifications for job applicants.
6. Recruiter can search for candidate profiles based on criteria such as skills, experience, and location.
7. Recruiter can view detailed candidate profiles to assess their suitability for job openings.

Home Page

Login Page

Register Page

JOBMATE

AboutFind CVsPost Jobs

Sign In

Register

Full Name

Enter your Full Name

Mobile Number

Enter your Phone Number

E-mail

Enter your E-mail address

Password

Enter your Password

Confirm Password

Enter your Password again

Register

OR

 Continue with Google